

BY TELEGRAPH.

EUROPE.

THE NEW CABLE.
PARIS, June 22.—The Great Eastern has arrived off the Port of Brest. The splice of the cable and will soon be made and the new cable under way.

ISMAEL PASHA LEAVES FOR LONDON TO-MORROW.
BRISTOL, June 21.—A banquet was given on board the steamship Great Eastern last night. Toasts were given in honor of the Emperor Napoleon, Queen Victoria, President Grant, and to the union of France, England and America.

AT AN EARLY HOUR THIS MORNING THE SHORE LINE AND THE DEEP SEA CABLE WERE SPliced, AND AT DAYLIGHT THE WHOLE EXPEDITION TO SEA, THE GREAT EASTERN PAYING OUT THE CABLE WITH EASE AND RAPIDITY. DISPATCHES FROM ON BOARD SHOW THAT THE WORK IS GOING ON WITHOUT INTERRUPTION.

TUMULTS IN MILAN.
MILAN, June 21.—Slight tumults occurred yesterday. The military was called out, and quiet has been restored. The Prefect has issued a proclamation threatening to take severe measures to suppress the outbreaks if they are renewed.

AN IMPORTANT AMENDMENT.

LONDON, June 23.—Lord Shaftesbury to-day introduced an amendment that the Irish Church property shall be made a fund from which to grant loans to the Irish peasantry.

THE COTTON TRADE.

LONDON, June 23.—A deputation representing the Lancashire cotton trade has petitioned for government aid in Indian cotton culture.

A BOW IN ITALY.

FLORENCE, June 23.—The authorities in Naples, Milan and Turin, are adopting extraordinary precautions against tumults, it is feared, the revolutionaries are inciting. Disturbances and several arrests have occurred at Ermo.

THE CUBAN ARRESTS.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Six important arrests of Cuban leaders were made by United States Marshal Barlow to-night, comprising the following: Ignacio Allende, General of the Northern Division of the Cuban Provincial Army; Colonel W. O. C. Ryan, Chief of the Recruiting Service; Captain Felix Von Stouburg, Captain Ackerman, Captain James Peters and Captain Lindorf. They are now confined in Ludlow-street jail. Warrants are also out for the arrest of a large number of others, and they will probably be secured during to-night or to-morrow.

Secretary Fish ordered active measures to be taken to secure all the leaders. Ryan was to command the expedition of a thousand men, who intended to leave to-night or to-morrow morning, with arms and ammunition. It was supposed they would join the Quaker City, which is believed to be lying off the coast. Ryan and Peters were first taken as they were entering a carriage from the Casino, (the headquarters) on Houston-street, near Mulberry. They offered no resistance. Ackerman, Von Stouburg and Lindorf were afterwards arrested at the Casino, when quite a row took place. The volunteers, under the influence of whiskey, attempting to prevent the capture, the marshal was obliged to resort to some force.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Cuban affairs have never been the subject of consultation, although occasionally the theme of conversation in the Cabinet, nor in the present aspect of affairs is official action probable. The government has no information that the opposing forces in Cuba ever met in the open field, but learns that the little fighting that has been done amounted to nothing more than skirmishes. All operations are confined to a few inland points. In this view of the case no member of the Cabinet has expressed any desire for or hinted at recognizing the belligerent rights of the Cubans.

The Spanish Minister has been informed that while the government will enforce the neutrality laws, it and the people sympathize with the Cubans. The Spanish Minister has been placed in direct communication with the United States marshals and attorneys, so that he may furnish them information enabling them to enforce the instructions issued months ago to intercept the sailing of hostile vessels. The recent arrests were made on information furnished through Spanish sources, and are mainly attributable to the open hostilities of the Cubans or their success in landing men and arms.

There is no disagreement between Secretary Fish and Senator Sumner in regard to Motley's instructions. General Butterfield has been appointed assistant treasurer at New York.

ALABAMA DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

MOBILE, June 23.—A special dispatch to the Advertiser says that the Democratic Convention met at Marion to-day and adopted a resolution that it was inexpedient to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress in the Fourth District, and adjourned. It endorsed the action of the other districts, and urged a strict party organization in every county. Colonel Lee Randall addressed the people after the adjournment of the Convention on the subject of immigration, and was warmly welcomed.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRE.

The Arizona has arrived at New York with 123,000.

The Pennsylvania Republicans nominated Geary for Governor, on the first ballot.

South American advices state that the fever is dreadfully at Trona, Peru, and the smallpox was at Chiriqui.

The bark M. V. Hugg has arrived at New York from Matanzas with fever. Two more of the Sarratza's crew are dead.

There was a slight earthquake and a great storm at Valparaiso. The government buildings were damaged to the extent of $100,000.

Minister Webb tells Secretary Fish that the Brazilians have no more respect for the United States than for Hayti, and suggests that the United States threaten them.

A meeting of the citizens of West Tennessee, North Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas, is called for the 13th of July, to consider the best means of securing Chinese labor.

Yesterday, Chief Justice Chase, by invitation visited the Tobacco Exchange, at Richmond, Va., and in response to an address of welcome from the president, expressed the hope that Virginia would regain her former prosperity.

In an affair at Franklin, Va., a negro was mortally wounded by a man named Holland.

The negroes collected at night and tried to burn Holland's house, but were driven off. A few hours later they burnt the saw mill and lumber yard of Healy Brothers. Loss nearly $20,000.

BLUE RIDGE RAILROAD COMPANY.

COUNCIL CHAMBER, CHARLESTON, June 23, 1869.

Agreeable to adjournment, the Stockholders of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company, in South Carolina, assembled at 10 o'clock, and was called to order by the chairman.

Mr. G. S. Cameron offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the Board of Directors are hereby instructed to issue a seven per cent. coupon bond, principal and interest payable in coin, having twenty years to run; and that all the unpaid coupons of the bonds then issued and to be issued, be referred to the Board of Directors.

Which, after discussion, was unanimously adopted.

Hon. J. L. Orr offered the following:

Resolved, That it be referred to the Board of Directors to ascertain upon what terms the stock now held in this company may be retired, so as to enable the company to issue new stock to aid in completing the building of the road, and if the same can be accomplished advantageously in securing the certain and speedy completion of the road, they be authorized to consummate such an arrangement.

Which was unanimously adopted.

On motion it was ordered that so much of the report of this meeting be published in the city papers as the board may deem advisable.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

W. H. D. GALLARD, Secretary.

THE GREAT BOSTON JUBILEE.

A Review of Its Motives and Merits.

The philosophic was who "did" the Boston Jubilee for the New York Tribune sums up his impressions at its close:

When I think upon what I have gone through this week, I hardly know whether I am pleased or not. It has been almost impossible to escape the jubilee with entire seriousness, because Boston gets so very mad whenever it is spoken of with levity. Her indignation at the jubilee was so intense that she was almost absolutely split in the front pious has such a comical aspect that I don't see how an ordinary man can help laughing. Then the wild reports of the local newspapers have elapsed over so fearfully that I take warning by their example and try to curb my pen whenever I find it running into compliment. But, in sober truth, there is a grandeur in this celebration (music apart) to which justice has hardly yet been done.

The aggregation of such mighty numbers is always imposing, and the appearance of the Congress men and organs, and the great signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

Those who had been listening to those who listened outside, were brought together every day for a week to enjoy themselves; think that they did this with good humor, and that a popular festival in the United States, and you will agree with me in rating Patrick S. Gilmore as a public benefactor. There was something grand in the dancing which concurred the plan of bringing people from the remotest parts of America to take part in a festival of such a very abstract character as this celebration of a peace which has been the result of a war which carried it to such a successful conclusion. We cannot help respecting the musical enthusiasm which inspired the great chorus, which was the signal and the tremendous chorus, rose to its work with a sort of majestic majesty, like a field of wheat swept by the wind, was superb beyond description.

RADICAL TAXATION.

Auditor Tomlinson Charges the People of Marion with Perjury Themselves—A Cool Epistle.

The Marion Star publishes with comments the letter of Auditor Tomlinson relative to the action of the State Board of Equalization in increasing the valuation of real estate in the county two hundred per cent. The star calls the letter impudent, ignorant and unstatesfactive, and advises the citizens to appeal to the law for redress. The letter is as follows:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE, COLUMBIA, S. C., June 18, 1869.

Messrs. John Wilcox, Wm. Evans, and others, Marion, S. C.:

General Webb, the Governor has referred to me a statement from you relative to the action of the State Board of Equalization, to which I have the honor to make the following reply:

First, as to the alleged exaggerated estimate placed upon the real estate of Marion County by the board. The real estate of Marion County, as returned by the County Auditor, was valued at $1,200,000, while that of Darlington, the adjoining county, was valued at $85,000. At the same time Marion returned 900,000 acres more than Darlington. The value of real property in Marion was $1,189,000, while she returned 900,000 acres less than Marion. The value of the real property in all the counties except Darlington was raised, and the value of property in Marion County was raised to what was thought to be its true value also.

I fail to see that the board has placed an "exaggerated" estimate upon the value of the property of your county.

I can very readily understand, however, that this increase will bear hardly upon individuals whose property is situated in the county. In the first instance, if the people of your county, with the assessors and County Board of Equalization had all done their duty, the necessity for the action of the State Board would not have existed.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of Equalization, and to send through the County Auditor a statement showing the value of their property, such statement to be supported by affidavits. This statement, showing a full description of the property, such as the number of acres of arable, meadow or woodland as the case may be, together with a description of the improvements, the County Auditor should send to the State Board, and the board should examine the same, and if they are not satisfied, they should order a new valuation to be made.

You ask that a new valuation may be ordered. There is no authority under the law for such an order. The only authority under the law is to order a new valuation to be made by the County Board of